OVER THE WORLD.

I sm s native of Engiand, and while I was in that country I contracted a terrible blood-poison, and for two years was under treatment as an out-door patient at Notlingham Hospital, England, but was not cured. I suffered the most agonizing pain in my bones, and was covered with sores all over my body and limbs. I had vertigo and deafness, with partial loss of sight, severe pains in my head and eyes, etc., which nearly ran me crazy. I lost all nope in that country and sailed for America, and was treated at Hooseveit, in this city, as well as by a prominent physician in New York having no connection with the hospitals.

I saw the advertisement of Swift's Spe-is the life, and he is wise who remembers it. But in March of last year (1884) I contracted blood-poison, and being in Savannah, G., at the time, I went into the hospital there for treatment. I suffered very much from rheumatism at the same time I did not get well under the treatment there, nor was I cured by any of the usan means. I have now taken seven bottles of Swiff's Specific, and an sound and well. It drove the poison out through boils on the thin.

BLOOD

JEBERY CITY, N. J., August 7, 1885.

Two years ago I contracted blood-poison. After taking prescriptions from the best physicians here and at Dallas, I concluded to visit Hot Springs, and on reaching Terarkana a doctor recommended me to try Swiff's Specific, assuring me that it would benefit me more than Hot Springs, Although the POISON nad produced great holes in my back and chest, and had removed all the hair off my head, yet I began to improve in a week's time, and the sores began to heal, and were suitrely gone inside of eight weeks.

LOCAL MATTERS. DECISION BY JUDGE HOLLADAY IN A

WHISKEY CASE.

The Deed by Fulcher & Co. on One Hundred and Sixty Barrels Declared to Be Null and Void.

In the Chancery Court yesterday Judge Holladay delivered an opinion in the case of Davenport & Morris against Fulcher & Co. in favor of the plaintiffs. The suit involved 160 barrels of whiskey, worth about $20,000, and was brought to attack a deed given by Fulcher & Co. to a lot of whiskey in a warehouse in Augusta county.

This whiskey was claimed as passing under that deed, and the trustee had advertised it for sale under a deed of trust. The plaintiffs in the suit got out an injunction stopping the sale, and in their bill they attacked the deed on the ground that it was storping the sale, and in their bill they astacked the deed on the ground that it was fraudulent and void—First. Because there was reserved to the grantor in the deed a power over the property inconsistent with the object of the trust.

Second. Because the deed was void for uncertainty in the description of the property, and because the substitution clause in the deed had been wholly disregarded by all parties to the contract.

all parties to the contract.

The Court sustained all the objections made to the deed by coursel for the plaintiff. Coke & Pickrell for plaintiff, R. H. Cardwell for defendant. A similar decision was made in the case of E. A. Saunders vs. Fulcher & Co., and Brown, Davis & Co. vs. same.

The Committee on Electric Light met yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock in the Council chamber. Present: Messrs. Powers (chairman), Bowie, Crenshaw, and Jones. A communication was read from Colonel Robert Beverly, representing the Virginia State Agricultural Society, asking the committee to take definite action about removing the electric-light poies on Broad street in order to allow ears to run to the Fair-Grounds at the State Fair next fall. Colonel Cuishaw came before the committee and gave his views on the subject, after which the committee clerk directed to so inform Colonel Beverly. The bill of the Schuyler Electric-Light Company for the past month, amounting to $1,004.73, was ordered to be paid.

Last summer the people of Richmond, after baving berne the heat and burden of the day, found no more pleasant way of spending their evenines than going down the river on the steamer Ariel's moonlight excursions. These trips were so successful that the Virginia Steamboat Company decided to run them again this summer. The first trip was made last night, and was all that could be desired. The patronage was liberal, and all who went enjoyed the beautiful moonlight, the sweet music, supper, See. The boat goes down just through Futch Gap and returns. RALFIGH, N. C., June 8.—In addition to the election returns sent you list night, the following are to be added: Greenwood township, Moore county, prohibition by a majority of 9; Asheville wet by 114 majority; Strtesville wet by 283; Charlotte wet by 429; Concord dry by 25. Catawha county voted on local option, but no returns have as yet been received. The prohibitionists here, though of course jubinant, are quiet. In fact, both parties have behibrionists here, though of course jubuant, are quiet. In fact, both parties have behaved well, which was to have been exhaved well, which was to have been exhaved, as Raleigh is one of the most orderly piaces in the country. The majority of the votes cast here vesterday having been "for prohibition," the next question to be decided is, Does such vote prohibit the sale of mail liquors, wines, and cider? The Code in one section only mentions "spirituous liquors," whereas another section refers to "mail iquors," being in regard to certain towns whose prohibitory law is an act passed by whose prohibitory law is an act passed by the Legislature for such town or locality. It would seem there is a distinction conceded by the two sections between "spirituous liquiors" and "mait liquors." Again, another section of the Code is entitled "An act to encourage the manufacture of domestic wines." It is hoped this "vexed question" may be settled at once, so that trouble may not grow out of it. There has been much comment to-day upon the question whether the law closing the liquor-saloons went into operation at once. The official returns will be opened to-morrow, and from that moment the law goes into effect. Solicitor Galloway, of this district, who is here, says this whose probibitory law is an act passed by way, of this district, who is here, says this with representative prohibitionists and anti-prohibitists, and they are all advising the giving of reasonable time to the liquor dealers to wind up their business. The time agreed upon is July 1st next. The solicitor will until that time insti-tute no prosecutions. Other people the no prosecutions, Other people chain that the grand jury must needs take up cases if any liquor is sold after the official decharation of the result of the election is made. The liquor-dealers have to-day been in conference with lawyers. There is talk of injunctions and appeals to the Supreme Court, but what will be done is a mystery. It is said that some of the Raleich dealers will go to Durham, which is a wet town. Others say that a fringe of hancen dealers will go be barreoms will surround the city just out-side the township limit. A mass meeting of the New-River miners was held at Sewell, Fayette county, Saturday, at which it was determined to nominate a miners' ticket for the campaign this summer. Delegates will be sent from each mine to a convention to be held at Kanarba Fails on July 4th. for the purpose of nominating candidates for Congress, State Senate, and Legislaure. Two of the men attending the meeting—William Horrick, bank boss in the Keenicy-Creek mines, and Joe Smith, drum-tender in the New-River coal and coke mines—became partly intoxicated and started to walk bome along the track of the Chesapeaks and Ohio railway. After walking about a mile they became drowsy, and, lying down with their legs across the track, fell asleep. While asleep an east-bound freight train passed over them completely severing their legs from their bothes and producing other injuries from which they deed to-day. Both new were married and had large similates. No blame is attached to the engineer, as he was too near them to stop his train after seeing them before reaching them.
